

Contributors to this book are the seventh and eighth graders. They identified as many areas as they could ~~to~~ to give people fifty years from now some ideas of what their lives are like. Students interviewed many people in the community, teachers, administrators, and even some of their own peers. They wrote about school life, how they talk, social problems, hobbies, sports, clubs, churches, names, foods, fashions, favorite programs, both radio and TV, businesses and many other ~~the~~ topics. They tried to give the students in 2026 a picture of ~~the~~ NOW.